The currency law; the downward revision of the tariff; the establishment of the Federal Trade Commission, the revision of the anti-trust laws—these things have been done for business men by the Democrats. The rural credits bill and the shipping bill to restore the American merchant marine—these are in the course of enactment. A record that no administration ever placed before the people, a record that the people will not fail to uphold at the polls.

TRIBUTES TO U. S. DIPLOMACY

Wilson's Foreign Policy Wins High Praise in All Europe

We still hear more or less—but rather less of late—concerning the alleged discredit and dishonor President Wilson's diplomacy has brought upon the United States in the eyes of foreign nations. It used to be called by an eminent predecessor "the laughing stock of Europe." We do not hear so much of that phrase either just now.

And what do they say abroad about this discredit? What about the President's last note to Germany? Former French Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Pichon, writes of the note's "conciseness, firmness and clarity." The Petit Parisien finds that in President Wilson, Emperor William "has met his master." Other Paris papers refer to the President's last move as "a masterpiece of diplomacy." Italian newspapers agree that Germany "gave in completely to the American demands." And even the German Volkszeitung of Cologne says that President Wilson has scored a great diplomatic victory and has assured his re-election.

Which are we to believe, these foreign commentators with the tremendous advantages of perspective, or the rancorous Wilsonphobes hereabout who are straining every nerve to discredit the President for reasons best known to themselves?—Boston Post (Ind. Dem.)

MONTHLY MEETING A. H. T. A.

Monett Sub-Order No. 184 A. H. T. A., met on May 17 in regular monthly meeting. There were only a few members present. Our ever-present president, W. Meador, was for some reason absent this time.

Harry Stebler was taken in as a member. Cecil Courdin made application for membership, which was favorably acted upon. J. P. S. Planchon gave an interesting and amusing experience he had recently while in Peirce City on business. Briefly it is as follows:

Mr. Planchon had left two overcoats in his buggy; he did not care to take them since they would be in the way, but on his return to his buggy he found that the overcoats were gone. He at once summoned the president of the Peirce City Sub-Order. It was not very long until a good crowd of Anties were on hand. These were promptly stationed in different parts of the town. It was not long until the innocent thief was spotted and brought before the owner of the overcoats, but alas! the thief proved to be Mr. Planchon's nephew. The nephew, who was attending a field meet, had become chilly and knowing that his uncle was in town, had gone to the buggy to find something in which he could keep warm. It proved to be a good, big joke at Mr. Planchon's expense.

The purpose in recounting this amusing experience was to show what an alert, prompt and really alive sub-order the Peirce City one is.

STEPHEN ARNAUD,
Cor. Sec. No. 184.
